live green

Envirodeck composite decking is well known to the South African market. Envirodeck was established in South Africa in 2004 as a local wood plastic composite brand and is a leading supplier of environmentally friendly decking materials.

Over the past decade, composite decks have grown in popularity as demand for eco-friendly, low maintenance decking materials has increased. Envirodeck has been at the forefront of this growth in the composite decking industry through continuous product research and development.

WHY CHOOSE ENVIRODECK?

MODERN

With its square profile and clean lines, Envirodeck is an economical, attractive and easy to install alternative to timber.

COST VS. PERFORMANCE

The Envirodeck range caters for all budgets and every design requirement, from decking to cladding and even furniture.

EASE OF INSTALLATION

Envirodeck boards are installed using Easy Clips, making the installation faster and easier compared to timber decking.

ECO-FRIENDLY

Envirodeck is manufactured from recycled materials and is considered a sustainable green decking product.

LOW MAINTENANCE

These boards are UV, mould and moisture resistant and are low maintenance. Soap and water clean-up.

HISTORY

The Envirodeck range caters for a variety of applications and has been successfully used in a number of local projects since 2004.

There are two different decking options with a solid double sided Impression Solid Profile and a single sided Impression Arched Lite Profile.

IMPRESSION SOLID PROFILE

The Envirodeck Impression Solid Profile is an easy to install composite board that is UV, mould and moisture resistant. It provides an "easy-to-live-with" outdoor area to suit your lifestyle.

The boards can be installed with either the smooth or ribbed surface, so the finish is up to you. When it comes to strength versus functionality, the Impression Solid board sets itself apart. This profile has a solid track record, having been sold in the market for over 10 years. This profile would suit any residential or commercial project.

IMPRESSION ARCHED LITE PROFILE

The new innovative Envirodeck Impression Lite Board is an economical choice when choosing a wood composite timber alternative. The board has a single-sided ribbed finish and an arched engineered underside. The single sided profile reduces the price of the profile due to increased logistics efficiencies without compromising performance. It still provides the same durability and aesthetics as the Impression Solid Profile board. The boards are easy to install and are an attractive, affordable composite product that will suit any outdoor project.
